Communities (Except Antioch) Name Reps to Countryside Hospital Board

Almost every community except Antioch was represented Sunday at the public meeting to discuss the proposed Countryside Hospital which backers say will be built in this area. Temporary representatives were named from every area to work with the association board in formulating plans.

More than 100 personal invitations went out to every civic and government group in this area and a blanket invitation to the public was made. About 50 persons attended, mostly interested citizens.

The temporary representatives named were Carl Hughes, Millburn, representing the Masons; Mrs. R. Lukaszewski, West Milwaukee, and Venetian Village area; Clark Wetterberg, Lake Villa, representing the rescue squad and Harvey Quick, Lake Villa.

Only person from Antioch at the meeting was a representative of Felter's Subdivision who came without a specific invitation.

Several persons in Antioch claimed they did not get the invitations through the mail and it is expected they will be invited to another meeting to be held in the Progressive Club Clubhouse, Cedar Lake and No. Channel Rd. at Round Lake Beach next Sunday. In addition, a special informal gathering will be held at Smart's here Saturday night to which those not attending the meeting Sunday will be invited, says Mrs. Jane Rundgren.

At the Round Lake meeting, representatives from the Round Lake communities, Grayslake, Long Lake, Gages Lake and Wildwood have been invited as well as the delegates named at last week's meeting at the Oakland School.

George Heuer, president of the association, outlined the background of hospital thinking in this area and then presented Dr. C. P. Midgley, vice president of the group, who reviewed the by-laws of the hospital. He specified five features of the constitution which he termed "unique" in hospital thinking which call for recognition of the spiritual and physical well-being of the patient and recognition of the democratic rights of the physician.

THE SPEAKERS hailed the need for representatives from every area "to help break down town line foolishness," and to work with the board. At the annual meeting of the association in September, 12 permanent members from every area the hospital will serve will be elected.

Those attending the meeting heard of recent accomplishments of the planners which include plans to go ahead with fund raising on May 1 in spite of lack of approval of the Internal Revenue Service for tax exempt status. Receipts given to donors will note that the money is refundable if the approval does not come—but approval was discounted as being only a formality and should be automatic.

HANDLING THE collections will be the Patient's Aid Society, the women's auxiliary to the hospital. Formation of this group was announced by Heuer with Mrs. Jane Rundgren of Lake Villa, a volunteer, as leader.

Questioners from the floor inquired of the size contemplated for the hospital. Heuer noted that originally a 50-bed structure was planned but doctors have felt that this is too small. So plans are now for a 100-bed structure and work will begin when enough funds are on hand for 25 beds.

A site for the hospital also is a major question of the public and an answer was promised by next weekend by Eugene Walaszek, a Fox Lake representative to the board. He has been working on attempts to secure a site near the intersection of Rt. 59 and 132 which hospital backers say would be the ideal site for the structure.

"Don't expect support from your doctors on this hospital," the persons at the meeting were told. It's not that they don't favor the Countryside Hospital plan, but most live in fear of being denied admittance to their present hospitals if it became known that they were working for erection of another hospital. Staff positions of doctors are that unsure, Dr. Midgley told the citizens. He said the only reason he was working on this proposal is that he is permitted to by the Condon Memorial Hospital staff, on which board he serves.

"It will be up to the people to build the hospital and I'm sure the doctors will support it then," he said.

Not Enough Letters on Bus Service

The Illinois Commerce Commission will hear arguments shortly from Antioch representatives on the question of yearly bus service to and from the Chicago loop, possibly as early as next week, says Edward C. Jacobs, village attorney.

A plea made last week to the residents of the area to voice their desires concerning this service brought in some letters but not in sufficient quantities, Jacobs says.

"ANTIOCH IS almost sure to receive at least summer service but it is up to us to convince the commission that a real need exists before year round schedules will be set up for the area," he added.

Persons who would benefit from year round transportation facilities to the loop should write The Antioch News, P. O. Box 538, Antioch, Ill. Letters will be forwarded and assembled for the hearing.

Include name and address along with comments and an approximation of how frequently you would use such a service.

Form New PTA AtOaklandSchool

A new PTA unit has been formed at the Oakland Grade School with officers and committee chairmen named.

Mrs. Homer White is the president of the new group with Mrs. O. W. Turner, vice president and program chairman; Miss Jill Camphouse is secretary and Mrs. Lichtenstein is treasurer. Mrs. William Carrich heads the membership committee.

Programs for the coming year are being planned by Mrs. Turner's program committee and will be announced later.

Salem Residents Unfriendly To City Plan Proponents

By Noel Duerden

Promoters of the plan to change Salem Township's status to a fourth class city took a first class beating Monday night by more than 1,000 township residents. Several statements made by the town chairman, an opponent, were loudly applauded.

Although they had all the answers, even relied upon by the side against the plan, residents came away feeling that not enough facts were presented to show that there were more advantages to becoming a city than staying as a township. Most of the crowd did not come to learn more about fourth class city status but to reinforce their apparent satisfaction with the township.

Proponents of the plan are Ray Forster, Rock Lake, and John M. Schnurr, Wilmet, a former township supervisor. They had a battery of experts in fourth class city governments including Glen Davis, former congressman and the man proposed for city attorney of New Berlin; and William Bowman, city attorney of Greenfield and associated with the formation of Franklin and Oak Creek area into cities.

LEADING THE opposition was Earl Elfers, township chairman, whose three experts claimed they were not prepared to answer most questions due to the hurried call of the meeting. Elfers, in presenting his opening remarks, skirted the issue by expressing satisfaction with present town government which was not on trial. No town tax and a good cash reserve were outlined as major points in favor of keeping town government. A planning commission will be appointed at the next meeting of the town board, he said.

Major worry of the people during the questioning that followed the "debate" was that city government would cost more. Forster said that people will be taxed for more services as they request the services and that just because the area became a city was no reason taxes should go up.

ROADS CAME under fire as Davis listed the increased tax money which comes to a city as opposed to a township. With 70 miles of roads in the township, only $230 per mile and 20 percent of licenses is returned to the town. Under city status, $946 per mile, plus 20 percent of license fees is returned to the city. Besides, Bowman said, roads presently taken care of by the county would remain county roads. He cited Milwaukee County first returned two miles of

Space Writer Speaker at Lions Meeting

The air force and army are shooting for the moon. A man will enter space within the next two years. Jet airliners already are spanning the Atlantic in 6½ hours, the U. S. in 3½ hours.

These are just a few of the things the Antioch Lions Club will hear about and see as they hold their regular dinner meeting Monday, April 27, at Smart's Country House.

Peter Reich, Aviation Editor of the Chicago American and one time Radio Quiz Kid, will be guest speaker for the evening.

THE SUBJECT OF his presentation is Jets, Rockets, Space and You. Supplementing his talk with 120 color slides Reich will cover such things as the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile, the Vanguard and Explorer launchings and the just revealed X-15 rocket ship.

Photographs from the Soviet Union of Russian space projects are included in his slides.

Reich himself has pierced the sound barrier in a jet interceptor, flown in jet bombers, covered missile launchings at Cape Canaveral and participated in the atomic Civil Defense tests at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

THE LOCAL GROUP is also expected to discuss plans for the pool clean up day to be held May 3.

A plea will be made to the members for attendance May 3 for painting the pool and getting it ready for opening day.

Suggest Chamber Attend All County Board Meetings

A suggestion that a member of each chamber of commerce be present at all county board meetings was made at a joint meeting of the Antioch, Fox Lake and Round Lake Chambers last week at Ingleside.

The suggestion was made by Mat Hoffman, president of the Round Lake Chamber, host to the group, after discussion on the county courthouse issue.

PLANS FOR THE annual golf outing for the three chambers were discussed and members will be guests of the Antioch Chamber Thursday, April 23 at Smart's Country House here. A site and date for the golf outing will be selected.

Attending the last meeting from Antioch were Ralph Gresens, president; and other officers, C. R. Keulman, Bernard Osmond, Marian Pechousek, Hilliard Tibeski and Robert Calloway.

Antioch Has Light Vote, No Opposition

In Antioch, only 94 voters turned out to return all incumbents to their village board posts. There were two write-in votes.

Veterans Edmund Vos and Herman Holbek garnered 85 votes each to lead balloting while Frank Applebey won his first election with 80 votes. Applebey was appointed to the board in December to fill the unexpired term of George Garland who died last spring.

A single write-in ballot was cast for John Horan and one for Arthur Meierdick. There was one spoiled ballot.

One Old, Two New Members At Lake Villa

"Better than average" voting in Lake Villa returned only one incumbent to office on the village board and gave two newcomers a chance at community government.

Voters liked Kaurin Karolius and gave him 136 ballots to return him to office, but they liked Charles Pester and Donald Cremin better. Pester got 179 votes to lead the seven-candidate field, and Cremin got 166 votes.

Incumbent Frank Slazes, Sr., came in fourth place in the voting with 129 ballots and Anthony Sciacero could garner only 111. Henry Reidel got 86 and the only woman in the voting, Mrs. Ruth Bocox, got 31.

CREMIN AND PESTER are both life-long residents of the area. Cremin, a plumber, presently is a member of the zoning board and has attended almost every meeting of the village board as a citizen. He conducted his successful campaign by making personal contacts.

Pester, the top vote-getter in the race, also conducted a house-to-house campaign. He is a carpenter.

There were 317 ballots cast in the election which observers considered very good in a strictly municipal race.

Man Dies After Caught in Sand Dredger Accident

A Wauconda man died in a Waukegan hospital Saturday of severe injuries he received while working on a sand sucker on Lake Marie Saturday.

He was Stanley F. Kotlowski, 63, a veteran employee of the Arthur Pregenzer Dredging Co. of Antioch. He was drawn into the machinery by a belt on the sand equipment and received head and leg injuries. The Antioch Rescue Squad took him to the Waukegan hospital where he died soon afterward.

He is survived by the widow, Florella, and a daughter, both of Wauconda. Funeral services were held Tuesday.

PAPER DRIVE SAT.

Troop 92 will have its monthly paper drive Saturday, April 25. Please have all paper tied and on the curb by 9:30 a. m. People living in outlying areas should call Antioch 641-J or 856-M, or bring paper to the Scout House.

Turn Out All Citizen Candidates In Heavy Lindenhurst Balloting

Voters in Lindenhurst turned their backs on the ruling Citizen's Party in Tuesday balloting to place all candidates of the opposing Conservative-Progressive Party on the village board. Won were three trustee posts and the job of village clerk.

The new lineup of the board promises to make village politics highly interesting as the parties have been bitter enemies since incorporation of the village. The Citizen's Party stumped for incorporation, the C-P Party was opposed.

GREATEST VOTE-GETTER was Mrs. Margaret Eisner who polled 217 votes for village clerk. Backing her up were Alex Bartling, 211; Charles Pawlowski, 208 and Mrs. Georgia Matthies, 206.

The new office-holders were placed on the board at a special meeting Wednesday and will participate in important planning for future sewer-water systems for the village at a special meeting on May 4.

CITIZEN'S PARTY candidates, all incumbents, received votes as follows: John Slove, 199; Lowell Graves, 167; Lyle Mercer, 166; and Mrs. Rae Gibbons, seeking to repeat as clerk, after her appointment last winter, 165.

The Citizen's Party has held all village offices since incorporation in 1957 and has been opposed by the Conservative-Progressive Party since that time.

The new board lineup will give each party an even split in membership with three posts each. Robert Randall, village president, is a Citizen's Party member also and thus

Difficult Fire Destroys Home On Grass Lake, 5 Grass Blazes

A difficult fire at the home of C. J. Tressler at Grass Lake caused much trouble for the Antioch Fire Dept. over the weekend.

Almost the entire interior of the home was burned and fire got inside insulation, making it hard to detect and to extinguish, said Edgar Simonsen, fire chief.

FIRST CALL TO the home was Sunday and firemen had to return twice on Tuesday. Damage was estimated at $6,000 by Simonsen. There were no furnishings in the gives his party an edge in any tied vote questions. His term expires in two years.

ONE CITIZEN'S PARTY member observed that the vote totals were almost the same as when his party won their original offices and it appeared the opposition gained its strength from new residents.

The C-P Party has conducted a 6-week campaign of sending letters at least every week to all residents. The letters called for financial and road maintenance reforms for the new village which is beset by a tight financial situation.

The Citizen's Party has remained silent during the campaign on the charges of the opposition and relied on personal contacts to refute the claims.

New Funeral Home Opens on Weekend

The area's second funeral home opens this weekend at Lake Villa and an open house is planned for the $65,000 structure on Rte. 21, south of Grand Ave.

Owners are Frank R. Ringa and Sons, who operate two funeral parlors in Chicago. Managing the Lake Villa home will be Robert Ringa.

THERE ARE THREE chapels in the modern ranch-style structure and a complete casket display room. Weather has held up the completion of construction but the entire area will be landscaped and a 150-car parking lot will be hard-topped soon.

Open house hours are Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 9 p. m. and the home will go into complete operation on the weekend also, Ringa says.

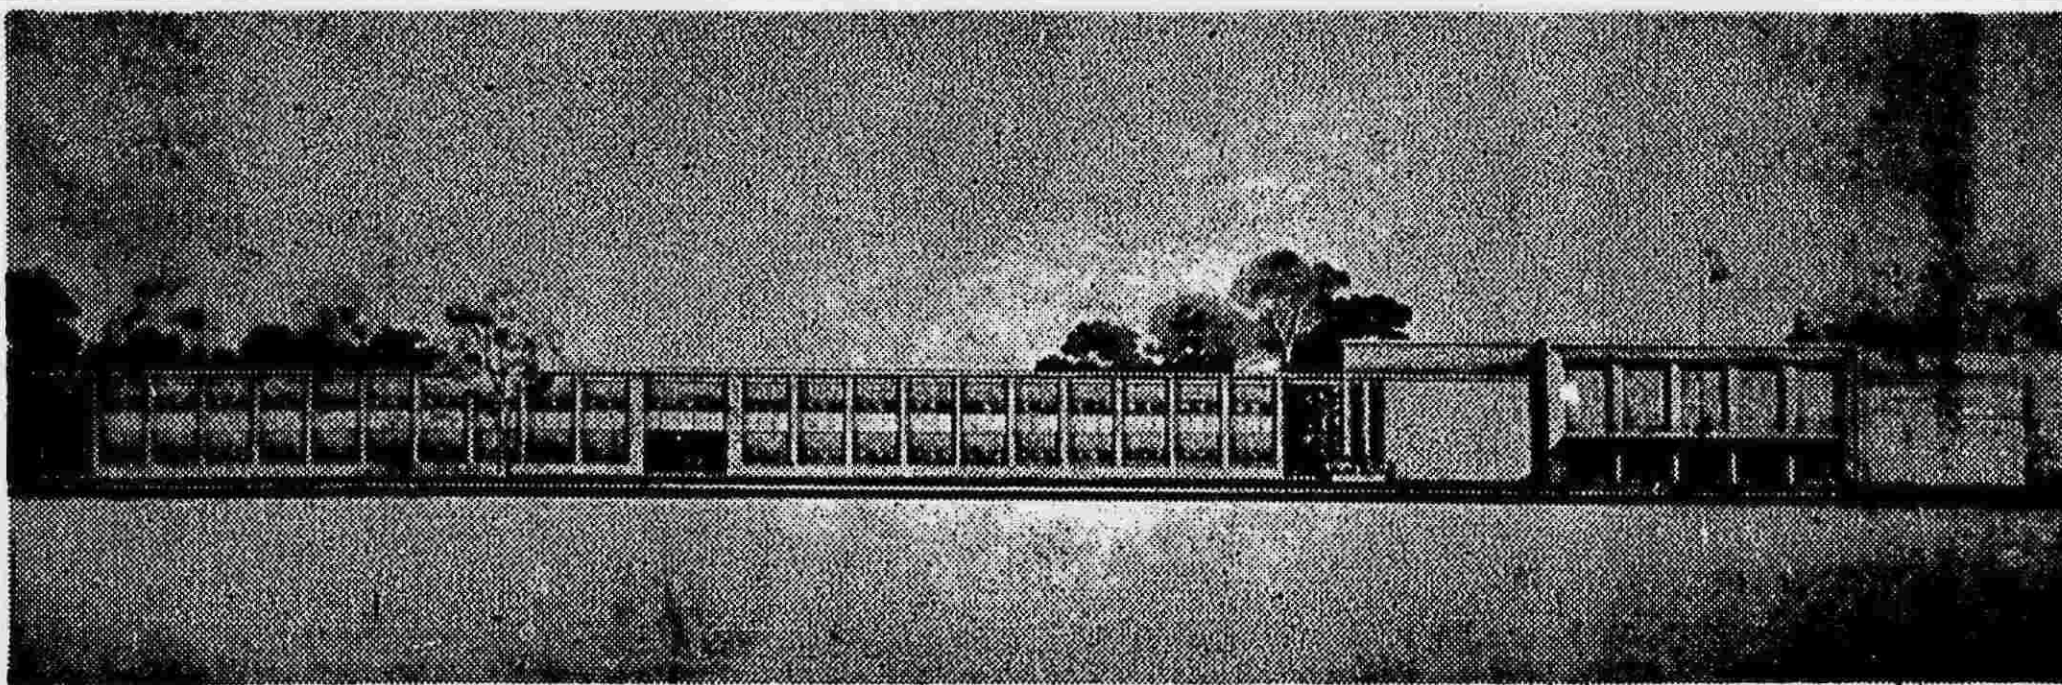

The family moved to this area due to the growth the area is experiencing and due to the need of additional funeral services. Lake Villa was chosen because of its central location in the future growth and for its convenience.

Moose to Install At Sunday Meet

The installation of officers of Antioch Moose Lodge will be held Sunday, April 26 at 2 p. m. Ben Noble, installation chairman, will be in charge of the ceremony.

The workers on the fish fry, Friday, April 24 are Lester Palmer, Jack Palmer, Bob Gerloff, and Lew Wagner.

Meeting nights of the Antioch Moose Lodge, are every second and fourth Wednesday of the month, starting at 8 p. m.

FRONT ELEVATION drawing of the proposed new Antioch Township High School shows the face of the structure upon which voters will decide on May 9. The two-story building shown here is first phase of a courtyard enclosure. The first phase is for a complete high school to house 800 to 900 students and will be in an L-shape.

DEAR READER News Editorials

Many Say a Lot, Know Less

It is amazing how people in this fast age resist change. It is actually an age of status-quo and any changes in way of life or of progress has to be thrust upon them.

The opposition to change is most apparent in three big issues now before the people in this area. Two will cost money, one is only a political rearrangement. The new high school proposal for Antioch area will take a vote of the people to raise the necessary money; the Countryside Hospital proposal will be on voluntary donations of time and money; the Salem Township city plan in Wisconsin will require a vote to change government forms.

In observing the reactions of the great and powerful public to these issues, it becomes apparent that people do not look into the matters with the thought that maybe there is something good here after all. Their attitude is "Prove it to me, and if all my neighbors like it, then I'm for it."

In the case of the high school issue, backers can be sure that every no vote cast May 9 will come from a person who either closed his mind to the need and the solution or was swayed by hearsay of an already prejudiced neighbor. A person should look carefully into the proposition, make a few honest inquiries, to see for himself if the new school building is basically a good plan.

The hospital people face a different kind of situation in citizens who don't care enough to find out if the need for a hospital is strong enough. Rather they knock the plan by saying it won't succeed when they really don't know if it should or can. You've heard someone say this to you but if you questioned them on the plan, they must admit they haven't attended a meeting or read much about the proposal.

In Salem Township, the residents have a tendency to reject the plan to make the area a fourth class city. They are not bothering to weigh advantages against disadvantages but have already gotten their pre-conceived notions working to throw out the plan.

This is not to say that any of these proposals are good and the most desirable solutions to problems. But it is an indictment of the public which always has much to say about an issue, but never finds out about it.

Hawaii, Land of Cowboys Before Texas Heard From

The land of the pineapple and the hula is also the land of the cowboy. In fact, cowpunchers were riding the Hawaiian ranges several years before Texans began driving their steers to market along the old Chisholm trail.

Capt. George Vancouver, the English explorer, brought the first cattle to Hawaii in 1793. Protected by the king, the longhorns ran wild and multiplied.

WHEN JOHN PALMER Parker settled in the islands in 1815, the king hired him to slaughter the cattle, prepare their hides, and salt the beef for sale to visiting ships.

At first the king owned all the herds. But after the Great Mahele, or division of land, selected herds were settled on private ranches. And Parker's business mushroomed into a 300,000-acre ranch in the uplands of Hawaii Island that was to become the second largest cattle ranch in the United States.

THE HAWAIIANS learned to ride and rope from Spanish cowboys imported from Mexico, according to The World Book Encyclopedia. Their word for cowboy still is "paniola", from "español," or Spaniard.

Hawaiian paniolas like Eben P. K. Low, grandson of the founder of the Parker ranch, have won many rodeo events on the U. S. mainland. Even after he lost one hand in a roping accident, Low, nicknamed "Rawhide Ben," challenged any man to top his roping skill. In 1908 he was crowned at Cheyenne, Wyo., as the one-handed champion roper of the world.

The German View

US Troops Are 'Protection' Forces

PEERING OVER THE iron curtain into communist East Germany are these members of the American border patrol.

By Annette Lubkeman

(Editor's Note: Americans hear much of what goes on in the world—but most of it comes through the practiced political observer and scarcely any from ordinary citizens. Sgt. Robert C. Lubkeman of Antioch and his wife and son are living on the iron curtain border in Germany where Sgt. Lubkeman is on border patrol.)

(The Antioch News requested an ordinary citizen's views on the situation they are closest to. In this story and one that follows is a presentation of a segment of the world situation through the eyes of residents of the lakes region.)

Berlin will no doubt be THE main event of the year.

The West Berliners claim that Berlin would not be a "free" city in the literal sense of the word if the Russians should gain complete control.

BUT BRIEFLY, West Berlin leaders feel sure America will lend all the necessary help and that we will fulfill any guarantees we have made concerning the "outpost city." They are satisfied with the attitudes of our president and other leaders in the government.

Berlin is important to the West Germans for it is their age-old capital. And the entire occupation of Berlin and West Germany is popular with the people. There probably is much about the occupation that is classified information—but the West Berliners do want soldiers in the city—American, not Russian. The west feels that since 1945 we have been protection forces, not occupation forces.

They don't want the Americans to leave.

THE GERMAN ARMY steadily is growing larger. As it does, it replaces the other troops who are occupying Germany. I estimate that by 1961, the American troops are supposed to pull back as far as the Rhine River. At this time we are right on the border.

But the tense Berlin situation can change all plans. At this time we haven't heard about a change.

The border in our area consists of a plowed strip of land, ten meters (about 390 feet) in width. Blockades have been placed in the roads and no one may cross these. In fact unauthorized persons may not even approach them.

We wanted to see what the border looked like so tried to drive up to it one day. Before it was even in sight we were stopped and turned back by members of the Bundesgrenzschutz (German Border Police).

The border is patrolled daily by American soldiers and these are the first that would give warning of an enemy ground advancement. I am not allowed to say more of procedure.

(Next week: What do the Germans think of us—and of the Communists—)

Why Is It Easy to Get Funds for Gravel, Hard to Get for Education?

I noted with much interest the news article in last week's paper that stated Antioch Township had approved a 10c per $100 valuation gravel tax. It seems to me, if I interpreted correctly, that just prior to election, a news article appeared where Mr. Murrie stated that Antioch Township was in such excellent financial condition that additional tax funds would not need to be levied. Yet now, not even a month after election, we are presented with approximately $10 a year tax increase.

This, however, was not my purpose in writing. It just seems ironic to me that tax money for gravel can be obtained so easily, while money to provide adequate educational facilities for our high school age children must be approved by referendum.

Interested and informed citizens are already concerned over the approval of this referendum. They fear it may be defeated by tax-conscious property owners. But we citizens, as parents and grandparents as well as property owners, must realize we cannot supply an adequate educational foundation for our ever-increasing number of children without also paying additional taxes.

If we must pay for gravel, let us also vote to pay for schools. Surely, it is more important to improve our children than to improve our roads.

Honeymooners at Florida Resort

Charles G. Kempf, whose parents have a resort on Petite Lake, and his bride, the former Miss Marge Juhl of Riverside, Ill., arrived Wednesday at Old South Bar-B-Q Ranch on the Tamiami Trail north of Fort Myers, on their honeymoon tour of Florida.

Kempf, who is in service stationed at Anchorage, Alaska, must be back at his post by April 21 so the young couple will drive to Chicago and fly north from there. The honeymooners were outstanding as they strolled around Old South's dining room looking at curios of early days and reading amusing old placards.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kitzhaber returned to make their home in Antioch this week from a honeymoon trip in northern Wisconsin after their wedding in St. Peter's Catholic Church on April 11.

The bride, the former Bonnie VerHagen, was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Howard VerHagen, Lake Villa. She chose for her wedding gown, hand-clipped lace. Her basque bodice fashioned a jewel neckline and a bottom cluster flounce highlighted her bouffant skirt that fell into a chapel length sweep. Matching pearls and sequin headpiece held her silk illusion veil and a cluster of red and white roses accented her costume.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Virginia VerHagen, as maid of honor and Miss Sally Nebel, a cousin, served as bridesmaid as the Rev. Alfred Henderson pronounced the nuptials.

Miss Mary Kay Steltenpohl, another cousin, was flower girl.

The bridegroom, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kitzhaber of Greenwood, Wis., was attended in the double-ring ceremonies by Tom Stiefrater, a nephew, as best man. A cousin of the bride, James Nebel, was an usher along with Bernard Kitzhaber and Harold Steltenpohl. Ring bearer was Bobby Suda, a nephew of the bridegroom.

A reception attended by 125 persons honored the couple at 6 p. m. in the Lake Villa VFW Hall. A dinner was served and was followed by a dance.

The new Mrs. Kitzhaber is a 1958 graduate of Antioch Township High School and is now employed at First National Bank in Antioch. The bridegroom is a graduate of Greenwood (Wis.) High School in 1954, and works at American Motors in Kenosha.

Institutions. Every time a section is taken out of a township, there is a division of assets and liabilities in which the township usually loses. "They take your bread and want a little butter to put on it," he said.

HOWEVER, THE proponents' speakers did not recognize that in every other instance of formation of a city, the previously unincorporated area was being encroached upon by a larger city. That is not true in Salem, for instigators of the plan feel that population alone is large enough for a city.

Schnurr and Elfers clashed at the meeting's mid-point when the chairman read a letter from the county attorney who was of the opinion that statutes would disallow any incorporation because the area was not next to a first class city. Bowman, for the proponents, said that that statute did not apply here since another section of the state code covered this situation. Elfers replied that the final decision must then rest with the circuit court.

SCHNURR THEN asked Elfers if he asked about the statute which did apply to this area and charged him with discrediting the statement of Bowman. Schnurr said afterwards that Elfers had been told repeatedly about the correct statute but had failed to bring it up.

Bowman warned the group that taking a piece out of a township is not good and that if incorporation was felt best, the entire township should be made into the city. If the plan goes through, it would be the first time that such a large area was made a city.

Ending the meeting was Alfred Schmidt of Salem, former town chairman, who took a middle-of-the-road stand. A fourth class city is good where this type of government is needed, he said, and this is next to a bigger city. "But township form is not correct either." He suggested that a rural-urban area is not cared for under present laws and some changes must be made in basic laws to permit better type governments in areas such as this township.

The Association of Salem Township Subdivision Residents, sponsors of the meeting, said it would take a stand on the question after its next meeting, Gilbert Elselder and Richard Nuytens, president and secretary of the group, who presided, said later that a statement would be made by their group. It represented 17 of the 60 subdivisions in the township.

See That Road? Now... Know Where You Are?

You know where you are, where you are going, then you look at a road map and where are you?

That's the situation the high school board had to cope with to legally describe the property on which it hopes the proposed new high school will be built.

IT WILL BE on Deep Lake Rd., that's a surety, but will it be at the intersection of Loon Lake Rd., Old Waukegan Rd., or Millburn Rd.? Actually it matters little for legally it is the same street. However to residents and on street signs custom predominates.

What's more, the road is known by other names. If you're west of Rt. 21-83, it's Grass Lake Rd., if you're east of Rt. 45, it's Wadsworth Rd. On state records, it is known as State Aid Rt. 18.

Athletics Valued In All School Life

Armin Kraft, head football and baseball coach of the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee, stressed the importance of athletics to a school curriculum at the annual athletic banquet at Salem Central High School.

He justified athletic programs in schools.

"Where else can a person better learn to make quick decisions, to meet new challenges, than in an athletic event?" Kraft emphasized. He said athletics provide the young people with the type of challenge they will meet throughout life.

Kraft said it was a privilege for boys and girls to compete in athletics. "The school does not owe them anything," he said. Rather they owe the school for the opportunity to compete.

He stressed the importance of choosing a college or university for its academic, not its sports, record.

Toastmaster for the evening was John Dahle, track coach of Mukwonago High School, and an old friend of Salem's athletic director, Dorm Grams.

About 180 persons attended the banquet.

Make Price Changes For March Shipments Of Milk-to-Chicago

Dairy farmers shipping milk to Chicago milk handlers will receive $3.42 per cwt. at delivery points within the 55-to 75-mile zone for base milk and $2.90 per cwt. for surplus milk delivered in March, Harry L. Edwards, Director of Sales, Pure Milk Assn., has reported.

These prices are for milk testing 3.5 percent butterfat. The butterfat differential is 6.9 cents per cwt. for each tenth of 1 per cent above or below 3.5 percent.

THE BASE PRICE includes 12 cents per cwt. super pool premium as a result of negotiations conducted by Pure Milk Association with Chicago milk dealers. The surplus price of $2.90 includes no super pool addition.

For March a year ago, the base price was $3.60 per cwt. including 13 cents super pool premium and the surplus price was $3.07.

The current prices, as compared with last year's prices, reflect the drop in government price supports on April 1, 1958 and an increase in milk produced under Federal Order 41, Edwards commented.

Compared with March, 1958, Class I and Class II sales under the order increased almost 5 million pounds but this figure was over shadowed by a production increase of more than 36 million pounds, he pointed out.

An Earthworm by Any Other Name Is Still a Common Angleworm

How many synonyms can you think of for the word "earthworm"?

Falk Johnson, assistant professor of English at the University of Illinois Chicago Undergraduate Division, can think of 21 which are used throughout New England alone. They are: dirtworm, mudworm, muckworm, groundworm, angleworm, angling worm, angler, angledog, fishworm, fishing worm, eastworm, eastworm, easterworm, eelworm, rainworm, redworm, simplex worm, nightwalker, nightcrawler, nightprowler, crawler, and bait.

JOHNSON LISTS these words and other regional language usages in his article "How We Got Our Dialects," which has just been published in the book "Life in Literature America Today."

Johnson says that two forces affect changes in language—differentiation and standardization. Differentiation tends to tear language into smaller and smaller pieces while standardization unifies it.

In his article, Johnson says "If natural barriers or inadequate transportation cut off a place from the outside, then transplanting of word is stopped; as a result, the speech in the two places becomes more and more diverse and finally divides the two languages."

He cites the fact that a few thousand years ago differentiation divided the Indo-European language into Latin, Greek, German and more than a half-dozen other tongues.

HOWEVER, JOHNSON adds, "After the Renaissance, printing lessened the language isolation of many communities."

Standardization, he continues, "has become the dominant force in our language. It is the tendency which gradually makes the Southerner, after he has been in the North awhile, feel self-conscious whenever he says 'you-all'."

"Today, of course, the forces contributing to standardized speech are more powerful than ever before. Mass entertainment by radio and motion pictures, mass education, mass reading of national publications and mass traveling—all tend to build up uniform speaking habits.

2 Get Scholarships At Stout College

A second semester scholarship report at Stout State College, Menomonee, Wis., reveals that among persons attending the college this semester whose scholastic achievements are being recognized by a scholarship grant are: Gerald Dittmer, Grass Lake, and Art Hanke, 441 Orchard St., Antioch.

The awards are part of 174 scholarships, valued at $12,500, which Stout has made available this semester to students who show outstanding promise in scholarship, leadership, or achievement in some specialized endeavor. During the full 1958-59 college year, the college will have granted 345 scholarships having a total value of $24,203.50.

Gerald, son of Fred Dittmer, and Art, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hanke, Jr., are freshmen this year at Stout, and are part of the second semester student body of 1,222, largest mid-year enrollment in the 65 year history of the college. Both won similar scholarships for the first semester of this year, but scholarship grants are awarded on a semester basis and are renewed only when a student's progress warrants.

As a result, some of our many minor dialects have started to disappear, and our major dialects are few."

Johnson concludes that "the forces of standardization are so strong that only a cataclysm of the first magnitude—something like an atomic war, pulverizing our mass society and making men live in small detached groups—can halt this trend toward uniformity."

When you climb on that tractor of yours just remember you are operating a machine, an object without mind but one of great power — the power to kill.

Each year thousands of farm people like you, like your neighbor, are killed, not as much by "freak" farm accidents as by "careless" accidents. Be sure this is not your last spring planting.

No one can tell you what to do, how to be careful, what to avoid. You know. But we can say this: We want to see you around when the snow flies late this fall.

Draw Sunday for Second Round Pairings In News' Keg Event

With only three days left before the second drawing in the Antioch News individual Handicap Tournament there are 19 matches still to be rolled off.

Chuck Huber holds down top honors so far with a high game of 235 and high series of 641.

The drawing for the second round will be held Sunday, April 26, at the bowling alley and all matches must be rolled off prior to that time. If all matches have not been rolled, a substitute will be picked and placed in second round drawing.

THE SECOND ROUND will eliminate 32 of the remaining 64, the losers receiving $5 each in prize money.

Jack Sampayo, director of the tournament, says that from now until completion of the tournament, only a week will be allowed between drawings. By holding to this schedule the Championship will be determined sometime during the week of June 7.

MOST OF THE remaining matches will be rolled off Friday night following the major league, Sampayo says. The balance will be completed on Saturday and Sunday morning.

From the beginning of the second round right up to the finish everyone is a winner with the prize money increasing with each drawing.

The winner of the tournament will receive $100 in prize money plus a large trophy. The runner-up gets $80 in prize money.

Waukegan Woman Wins Gals' keg Tournament

Antioch bowling lanes were good to visitors in the three weekends of the Women's Bowling Tournament which ended here on Sunday.

A Waukegan woman, Arlene Johnson, with a respectable 719 score with her 629 actual bowling, took first honors which included the title, a trophy and approximately $170 in cash. Actual cash prizes had not been verified by Tuesday.

Elsa Johnson of Morton Grove with 587 actual and 657 total with handicap got second place and Flo Krumske, Skokie, wife of the director of sports for a Chicago brewery, took third place with a 591 actual and 629 total.

IN FOURTH SPOT was Ann Lenix of Morton Grove who owned a 601 actual, 627 total and Myrna Jones of Lake Bluff with a 625 total on a 565 regular bowling, was in fifth place.

First local bowlers were Jeanette Westhoff and Kay Keulman who had 614 scores in a tie for ninth place. Jeanette had a 524 actual and Kay came in with a 564.

There were only 258 entries this year compared with last year's 3002 and so prize money was decreased somewhat, says Jack Sampayo, co-owner of the Antioch Bowl.

Salem, Wilmet Second, Third in 3-Way Meet

Salem High School came in second best in a triangular track event last week with Mukwonago and Wilmet at the Salem field.

Central took only four first places in the meet while Wilmet came in first in three events, thanks to the individual starrings of Wally Parteneimer. Salem had a first in the broad jump, 100-yard dash and 220 dash and the 880 relays. Parteneimer for Wilmet placed first in the shot put with 39' 3"; 120 high hurdles and the 440 dash events.

Final totals showed Mukwonago with 71 to Salem 47 and Wilmet's 30 points.

The Antioch News and Lakes Theatre invite Mrs. Gene Pogose, Rt. 1, Box 538, Antioch, and one to attend Sunday, Monday or Tuesday's show at the Lakes Theatre, on April 26, 27, or 28.

Prepare To Re-run Annual Grade School Track Meet

Fans of the track and field can see how well the small fry can do on May 1 at Antioch Township High School at the second annual Grade School Invitational Track Meet.

Eleven schools in the area have been invited again this year, including Allendale of Lake Villa which took almost every event in the first running last year. Antioch placed second and Channel Lake took third.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has said that America needs to be stronger physically and Coach Bob Walther feels that the event will help these area communities to reach this goal.

Parents are urged to remind their children of the meet, to sign up on the entry sheets sent to each principal.

First event in the meet will be the 50-yd low hurdles at 15-10-15 yards at 4:30. Events will be held for both the seventh and eighth grade classes and a school winner in each category named. The sixth grade will participate in a sprint shuttle relay of 150 yards.

Only event taken out this year is the 350-yard run, one lap around the Antioch track. All other events will be the same as last year.

Schools invited are: Allendale, Antioch, Channel Lake, St. Peter's, Prince of Peace, Lake Villa, Millburn, Newport, Hickory, Grass Lake and Emmons.

High Winds, Big Bats Beat Antioch

High winds and errors hampered both teams last Thursday as Antioch came out on the short end of a 25-10 score in a non-conference game with Fenton.

It was largely an afternoon of experimentation for Coach Larry Leon of Antioch.

TRYING OUT at pitching were Magiera, Wiegell and Jerry Dahlman. Magiera and Dahlman have not done any pitching since their freshman year. Wiegell did a little pitching during his sophomore year.

Magiera failed to get any one out in the first inning as Fenton scored nine runs. Wiegell then took over and was not much more successful. Dahlman came on in the third and allowed nine hits for the last three innings.

PITCHING IS GOING to be a big problem this year, says Leon. "We scored 10 runs in five innings against Fenton, which is usually enough to win most high school baseball games."

But, because of the lack of depth in pitching, the postponement of the early games because of weather only increases the problem. This means that there are just that many more games to be played during May.

The game saw four home runs, three by Fenton and one by Dick Wolf of Antioch. Everyone that suited out saw action.

Antioch journeys to Fox Lake next Wednesday for a make-up game with Grant. The game, originally scheduled for April 18, was rained out.

Sequoits Drop Third Tilt 13-1

The team tightened up on the mound and at the plate in the raw cold of Tuesday and Antioch's Sequoits dropped their third game of the year by a 13-1 count.

It was the first time that Coach Larry Leon's baseballers had been stopped at the plate but they got only three singles while Wauconda blasted 10 in fashioning the victory. The loss pushed the Sequoits to sixth place in the conference standings.

A BIG THIRD inning in which five bases on balls were issued combined with two timely hits gave the Bulldogs six runs to assure the outcome of the abbreviated game. Dahlman of Antioch turned in the best pitching performance for the locals, allowing only two earned runs. His teammates committed seven bobbles.

Antioch faces a big week of baseball ahead with five games in the next seven days, two of them conference affairs—Tuesday with Warren here and Wednesday of next week at Grant to make up a game rained out last Friday.

The line score Tuesday:
Wauconda 0 3 6 1 0 3—13-10-3
Antioch 1 0 0 0 0 0—1-3-7
Batteries: Casten and Newmann; Nielsen, Wiegell (3) Dahlman (3) and Gudgeon. Extra base hits: Wauconda, Newmann, Joswich, 3b.

Salem, Sequoits To Mix On Friday

With two top-sided non-conference victories under their belts, Salem's Falcons step into two big games this weekend—the first conference tilt Thursday and a test against Antioch on Friday.

Coach Bill Becker's nine travels to Waterford for the Thursday game to meet a medium Waterford crew. Then on Friday varsity athletic competition begins between the two schools when Antioch crosses bats on the Salem diamond.

THE LATEST WIN for Salem was a 12-2 whammy over Badger of Lake Geneva. Central came up with four runs in the opening frame, then picked up a pair in each of the third, fourth, fifth and seventh cantos.

Letterman Dee Davis put the hex on the Badgers for six innings, striking out seven and allowing only a single run on four hits. He tired and gave way to Gary Doerflinger in the sixth but got the victory. Between the Salem pitchers, only five hits could be bought by Badger.

Four reserves, two freshmen and two sophs, got to see action for Salem in the rout.

Begin Registering For Little League, Lang Asks Help

Little League Baseball season will officially open on May 3, according to H. William Lang, president.

"This year," said Lang, "we are going to ask full cooperation from parents with children involved in the program. In past years the response from the village merchants and sponsors of the Little League has been excellent, but we need team mothers to operate the refreshment stand, and fathers to help in maintaining the field in proper condition."

"RUNNING THE Little League program is not the simple matter it might appear to be at first sight. More than 250 boys usually appear to participate in the program. Naturally, the job of organizing them into teams, seeing that they are properly placed in those teams, is not a job for just a few. We can use all the help we can get."

"In addition, the Little League represents a substantial investment," he says. "The field, together with the man hours which went into construction, probably has a value of around $10,000. Little League's costs $1,500 per season."

"If every parent who has a boy in Little League would devote just two Sundays a season to the support of the program, a successful season would be assured," Lang says. "When your boy brings home his application blank, sign up yourself! Little League is good for your boy, it's good for the community, it's good for you!" the director adds.

REGISTRATION blanks for Little League will be issued on April 23 at the following schools: Emmons, Oakland, Antioch Grade School, Grass Lake School, St. Peter's, and Channel Lake Grade school. They are to be returned on April 28.

Try outs will be held as follows: 12 year olds, May 4; 11 year olds, May 5; 10 year olds, May 6. All these sessions will begin at 6:30 p.m. All Minor League prospects, 8, 9, and 10 year olds, will register at the field on Monday, June 1.

Track Squad Topples Seven More School Records But Loses Meet

Coach Robert Walther is a happy man today and has delusions of one of the top track squads in high school history here.

Seven school records were broken in Antioch's second track meet last week after eight records were broken in the first meet of the season on April 13. However, Antioch lost to Lake Forest by a 67½ to 50½ margin but the good showing of the boys gives Walther hope.

CHRIS DAVIS came through with two record-breaking tries in the meet, putting the shot 45 feet 3 inches to break the mark he set the week before. He hurled the discus 148 ft. as Antioch swept the event.

Dick Prange pole vaulted 10 ft. 4 inches. He went 10 feet even the week before. Bill Dressel ran the half mile in 2:11 for the fourth varsity record.

The Sophomores, losing 66-38, set three marks with Lance Keisler and Ken Truelsen coming through again. Truelsen clipped off the 220 in 24.4 while Keisler broad jumped 17 ft. 3 inches. Jim Ruhl, who set two marks last week, made the mile in 4:56.

THE RESULTS:

Followed Cautiously, Mail Is Valued by Legislators

By Rep. Paul Simon

Should a member of the legislature count the letters from his home district in deciding how to vote on an issue, or should he study the pros and cons and vote his own conscience?

Legislators differ on that question. Many issues are decided by a legislator's approach to that basic problem.

IT'S NOT UNCOMMON for one legislator to tell another, "I'd surely like to be with you on that bill, but the folks from my district are against it so I'll have to be against it, even though I think it's a good bill."

In my opinion, a legislator serves his district best when he follows his own convictions. To try to follow the winds of public opinion is both senseless and dangerous. Here are a few reasons:

1. While mail is important in letting you know what people back home are thinking and what issues they are interested in, it is not a perfect guide to their thinking. One person who is sold on a measure can kick up a storm of mail.

2. One of the reasons a legislator is sent to Springfield or Washington is to study the issues. If we are doing our job at all, we are going to be more informed on many issues than people who cannot devote their full time to studying proposals. To represent them properly we do not ask, "How is my mail on this issue?" I think we should ask, "If they had all of the facts on this issue that I have, how would they vote?" Many times these two questions come up with opposite answers. When the answers are not the same, the legislator should vote his convictions and try to explain to the people back home why he voted the way he did.

3. Political observers such as Walter Lippmann have pointed out that one of the dangers democracy faces today is that our government officials too often are not leaders but followers; too many let government drift with popular opinion rather than to find out where government should go and try to point out to the public why government needs to go in that direction. This seems to me a just criticism.

4. PEOPLE IN public office are human beings. We like public approval. I think this fact means that there is a natural pull away from extreme positions. This is a balancing factor and probably wholesome. But the great danger is that we hesitate to stand up against public opinion when we think it is wrong.

While this issue may not seem too important to you, it affects your community and your pocketbook.

For example, frequently mail in favor of some senseless expenditure far outweighs any pressure against it.

This does not mean that mail is not important. It is important. Mail from interested citizens decides many issues. Frequently mail which I have received has pointed out some fact which I had not known and has changed my mind on a proposal. Also, the mail gives an indication of what issues are of concern to people.

BUT YOU SHOULD neither want nor expect your legislators to agree with you always. Explain your position on an issue. If they disagree, don't hesitate to ask the reason. It may be a good one.

Sometimes your legislators may be doing you a favor by voting differently than you requested.

I recall a recent letter I received, containing eight points. Seven of the eight points called for increased government services. The eighth point was to reduce taxes.

That letter is a good illustration of why we who are legislators serve better by studying the issues and voting on convictions, rather than following the mail blindly.

Gardeners Move Into Vegetable, Flower Beds; Take Advice Of Experts

April and May are the very busy months for the gardener and members of the Antioch Garden Club are using every sunny day to plant, trim and care for plants and flowers.

And in between times, members try to pick up tips on planting from experts in every field such as at the regular meeting next Monday when Mrs. George Martin of Cary, a rose fancier and national judge for flower shows, will speak on "Horticultural Pot Pourri." The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ray Boller on Rt. 45, south of Millburn. Mrs. Walter Laurell will be co-hostess.

BUT MEMBERS of the local club look to Mrs. John Wagner for a lot of advice between monthly meetings. She likes to share her know-how with all who ask.

On her list of important things to do at this busy time is care of lawns. "By this time the grass should have been raked and fertilized. Of course all bare spots should be scratched and dirt loosened with a rake and reseeded."

"Then the flower beds and vegetable gardens should be cleaned and prepared for seeding. Peas, onions, radishes, beets and spinach should be put in now for they give early yields," Mrs. Wagner says.

SHE GOES ON to advise that persons can put in green bean seed in short rows and if the gardener is lucky, there will not be a freeze enough to harm the tender shoots. "It's a great satisfaction to have a fresh vegetable before all the other neighbors have even planted theirs."

"Rose beds should get some attention now," she says. "Clean up the beds and repair the damage of winter. Roses will need a lot of trimming this year because of the severe winter. Also fertilize them with a complete plant food and as soon as growth begins, start spraying with loving care and you may be able to save some of the badly frozen roses."

Mums should be separated and replanted now also, Mrs. Wagner adds. "Take up old plants and cut them apart, planting only the new growth for this year's blooms. I know of no flower that will give such an abundance of bloom."

"Most other perennials should be divided now if you intend to separate them at all. I find that many do better by separation," she says.

WITH THE AID of Mrs. Wagner, Saturday was a rose trimming time in the garden of Mrs. Dudley Kennedy, president of the Garden Club.

They trimmed a bed and chatted about how old peony stalks should be cut back just below the ground line (preferably in the fall) to remove the sclerotia or hard shelled wintering bodies of the fungus known as botrytis.

"It is a sound practice to burn these stalks. In many cases this may be the reason for the peony not blooming," Mrs. Wagner noted.

Now is the time to plant begonias inside. For the best results, they should be planted in fertile pots and kept well watered in room temperatures until all damage of frost is past. Then they can be planted outside in a shady, well-protected place for a wondrous display of blooms.

SEVERAL PERSONS who buy shrubs and trees from nurseries do not seem to have the best of luck, Mrs. Wagner noted. "For best results, all the deep rooted plants from nurseries should be placed in water as soon as received and planted after about 24 hours. Their roots are protected but they should be put in the ground as soon as possible so they will have the advantage of the cool weather to become acclimated to their new home."

There are many other tips that can be given to the growing legion of gardeners in this area, says Mrs. Kennedy and she notes an increase in the number of garden club memberships.

"They seem to enjoy exchanging ideas with someone such as Mrs. Wagner and picking up tips from each other."

TRIMMING OF ROSE BUSHES should be taken care of very soon and so Mrs. Dudley Kennedy (right) gets started on hers with the expert advice of Mrs. John Wagner, dean of gardeners in this area. Both are members of the Antioch Garden Club.

FL Hills Urged Sign Tax Waivers If They're Fair

By Jim Jankowiak

Fox Lake Hills Correspondent
Fox Lake Hills Property Owners Assn. held its monthly meeting Monday night with about 25 persons attending. Many topics pertaining to F.L.H. home owners were discussed. It was stated that those people who felt they received a fair assessment value should sign their waivers on their tax questions. Those who are not satisfied should wait until they are notified, and then go to Waukegan and protest, the association advised.

A spokesman for the subdivision said the tax problem was still a major issue, and that the association would fight it till everyone is satisfied.

Everybody should keep in mind that the Women's Auxiliary will hold a rummage sale on Friday night, May 15, and Saturday morning, May 16, the location to be posted at a later date.

Only seven dogs have been registered so far. This service is free, the only requirement being a rabies shot. It is for the dog's protection, Florian Jokial, chairman, says. Play it safe, he advises.

A service charge of 5 cents will be required of all boat owners. Boats will be registered and a decal given to owners. This measure, it is hoped, will prevent outsiders from taking advantage of Fox Lake Hills launching and docking privileges. Half of the money is to go to the F. L. H. Sports Club and the rest to the association.

The boat launching ramp has been put in at the Chesney Area beach, and the roads are now under repair in all the units.

City Centers Will Remain 'Alive'

The central business districts of large cities in this country will remain alive for years to come but only a continual decline was foreseen for the other areas extending to the fringe of the suburbs, a University of Illinois publication states.

Survival of the downtown business district is dependent upon office activity and a continued growth in office-type jobs is anticipated, according to the Illinois Business Review.

A three-year study of New York City by the Committee for Economic Development concludes that for historical and financial reasons, the area between downtown and suburbs is doomed both as a place to live and as a place to work.

180-Acre Kennels Opened to Train Dogs

It's not too early to begin thinking about a hunting dog for fall, says Elmer Timm, owner of the new Windy Acres Kennels, on Hnnt Club Road, ½ mile south of Rt. 173, seven miles east of Antioch. That's the reason he has purchased the kennel and offers a new-type training service.

Good manners are important for dogs, whether hunting dogs or just a family pet and a dog must obey commands at all times. Training methods offered by Timm accomplish just that, he says.

IN TWO WEEKS he will inform the owner of a hunting dog whether his dog can be made into a truly trained dog by exposing him to every temptation, then correcting any mistakes without breaking the dog's spirit.

In about three months it will be August when state law prohibits the owner from taking his dog into the fields for training purposes because the young of the game birds have been hatched and are roaming the fields. So training should be done ahead of that time and a refresher course will put the dog in tip-top shape for fall hunting, Timm says.

Windy Acres Kennels has 180 acres of training fields and three lakes for water work. There are spacious runs for dogs also, Timm adds.

ICC Gives Nod To More Toll-Free Phone Call Areas

Telephone rates will go up slightly here and at Lake Villa as service is extended over a broader area after Illinois Commerce Commission approved the request made by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

When the plan goes into effect, Antioch telephone users can call ELiot 6 numbers toll-free. It will mean additional service to about 1,856 telephones, says R. N. Hawkinson, Antioch telephone company manager. Antioch subscribers pay 10 cents for each Lake Villa call.

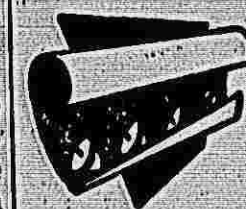

LAKE VILLA subscribers will be able to call any Waukegan, Grayslake and Antioch phones toll-free under the new plan. Lake Villa customers now pay 10 to 15 cents for each call to these areas.

New rates will range from 50 cents to $1.45 per month for most Lake Villa residents' phones and 50 cents to $4.50 for business phones.

ANTIOCH RATES will go up from 25 to 50 cents per month for residences and 50 cents to 75 cents per month for business subscribers.

However, Hawkinson said the new service and new rates would not begin until new cables between the communities and additional equipment is installed. It will take from 18 to 24 months. Until that time, rates and service will remain substantially the same.

Dieball of cargo ship USS Mulphen, and Navy Route 3, Antioch, attached to Amphibious Squadron Six, took part in Operation Tralex 2-59, an amphibious type exercise on the beaches of Camp Lejeune, N. C., April 7-24.

The operation, involving 13 ships and 4,000 Marines, places emphasis on "over-the-beach" handling of equipment used by the troops after landing. It also provides an opportunity to evaluate the capability of the landing ship dock (an amphibious vessel) to transport, land and support helicopters in assault and logistic roles.

Upon completion of the exercise the ships will return to Norfolk, Va.

Residents Have Many Questions About HS Bond Issue Proposal

(Editor's Note: Until May 9 when the area votes on a new high school building proposal, many questions about the issue are in the minds of residents. A set of frequently asked questions about the proposal will be presented in this newspaper along with answers supplied by the school board. Readers are invited to send in their own questions for which every attempt to get an honest answer will be made.)

Almost every night, somewhere in the Antioch Township High School area, residents are viewing a presentation on the proposed $1,785,000 high school plant. Presenting the story are members of the Citizens' Advisory Council who have served for more than a year studying the needs of the school and possible solutions. A new plant is their answer.

Members of the CAC who have put on the presentations, report that there is much that the people don't know about the proposal and that they ask many questions. Three of the most often asked questions are presented this week and the CAC will supply additional questions and the answers they give in the two weeks until the election.

THE HIGH SCHOOL board has approved a resolution calling for the erection of the building on a site at the corner of Loon Lake and Deep Lake Rds. The site, 50 acres, will cost $20,000 which is included in the bond issue.

Bonds will be retired over a 15-year period at an average increase in tax levy of 17½ cents per $100 valuation to property owners.

These are the three questions people have uppermost in their minds, the CAC reports:

Q: WHY DO WE NEED A SECOND BUILDING RATHER THAN AN ADDITION TO THE PRESENT BUILDING?

A: Space is the answer. If the enrollments were only going to advance to 800 or 900 students, a small addition at the present site would undoubtedly be the wisest and cheapest solution. But enrollments will not stop there. With enrollments of 1400 to 1500, the need for special facilities and a larger site, make a second building the most economical solution. The present site would be too costly to develop for the space we need.

Another major factor in the decision was the lack of flexibility of the present building. Two additions have been constructed already onto the present building, and many facilities in the present building are not capable of economical further expansion. Examples of these include: laboratories, library, heating plant, shops, home economics, physical education, etc.

Q: WILL THE PRESENT HIGH SCHOOL BE ABANDONED?

A: No. The present high school building will always be used for school purposes. For the foreseeable future the high school board must operate it as a high school. It is conceivable that sometime in the distant future the building may be used as a junior high school, but that will require a different form of school organization, which is not practical at the present time. Both the present and the proposed building will fit well into any future school reorganization that might take place.

Q: WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF LAKE VILLA AREA DEVELOPED ITS OWN HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT?

A: The total educational program and financial condition would be restricted for both Antioch and Lake Villa. United, the districts can offer a better education at a lower tax rate. A good illustration of this very event is that of Round Lake, Grant, and Grayslake. These districts are having considerable financial difficulty securing adequate funds for their total educational program (building, curriculum, staff salaries, etc.), and yet they have the highest tax rates of the fourteen high school districts in Lake County. Their financial condition is related directly to the establishment of the Round Lake district.

Grayslake Beats Antioch in Feb. Retail Sales

Grayslake topped Antioch in retail sales in February for the first time in recent years according to sales tax figures released by the secretary of state.

Antioch received a refund of $3,468.97 for the month while Grayslake received $3,611.68. The figures represent one-half percent of the total sales.

OTHER COMMUNITIES received returns as follows:

Fox Lake, $2,800.57; Lake Villa, $993.05; Lindenhurst, $47.22; McHenry, $560.16; Mill Creek, $22.59; Mundelein, $3,396.63; Richmond, $507.11; Round Lake, $1,408.41; Round Lake Beach, $880.55; Round Lake Park, $646.64; Spring Grove, $116.02; Wauconda, $2,063.26, and Zion, $4,427.86.

Begin to Landscape Tollways Friday

The first landscaping of the 187-mile Ill. Tollway will be launched on Arbor Day, Friday, with a token planting at the York road toll plaza on the East-West Tollway.

The planting on Arbor Day is the first step in a three-year program for landscaping and beautifying the tollway developed by the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission in cooperation with the Garden Club of Illinois.

UNDER THE landscaping plan, the garden clubs will provide landscaping materials and the commission will do the actual planting and maintaining of the landscaped areas.

Mrs. J. E. Vandiver of Elmhurst, president of the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., has officially adopted the landscaping of the tollway as a major project for the state-wide organization. Individual garden clubs will participate through a network of eighteen regional groups composed of clubs located in the area adjacent to the tollway.

His club is made up of youths in the 17-19 age bracket and will play any type of team, high school, college, independent, semi-pro or industrial in an unlimited age bracket. Night baseball is preferred, Lehman says.

Any coach who wishes to schedule the team should contact the manager at 4124 No. Oketo, Norridge 34, Ill.

State PTA Reaffirms Need Of State Income Tax Law

Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers has gone on record reaffirming the principle of a state income tax and of creation of an elected lay state board of education.

Meeting in Chicago on the weekend, the group called on Gov. Stratton and the legislature to initiate and pass legislation designed to make adequate funds available for the schools, including use of a state income tax, if and when necessary, for the securing of such funds.

The lay board of education, as proposed by the Congress, would be unsalaried without ex-officio members, selected for staggered terms of at least six years, with nine members and would be required to meet at least quarterly. It would develop policies, prepare recommendations to the governor and the general assembly and would use the Superintendent of Public Instruction as its executive officer.

Library Club to Help Promote Increased Reading of Students

Members of the Library Club are sponsoring the "National Library Week" campaign to promote interest in reading.

Special bulletin boards have been set up to attract readers' interest and movies which emphasize the practical, cultural, and recreational importance of the library in everyone's life as well as the movies which help individuals to get better acquainted with the resources of the library are being shown to the students during this campaign.

"Catchy" and colorful reading slogans stimulating interest among students are found on classroom blackboards. A novel feature on display in the library is the "Merry-Go-Round" of new books which have made their appearance recently in the high school library. Keen interest has been aroused in these new arrivals, and already many names for a waiting list of prospective readers for these books.

Members were appointed by the president, Ron Yates, to serve as library assistants for the months of April and May:

John Lentz

Karen Norfleest

Two Freshmen Full of Energy And School Spirit

By Judy Olson

JOHN LENTZ is the capable Freshman Class president. He considers this position very important, "because you get to know the position and the class. It makes you feel unafraid when you get up before large groups, and you have some responsibility."

President's problems? "It doesn't have many problems—just getting dues paid, keeping the class organized; setting dates for dances, parties, etc."

John finds the Freshman Class cooperative "except at times when they get a little out of hand, but they keep the motions going."

Class dues, in John's opinion, should be anywhere from 75 cents to $1. They should be paid by a certain date set to have them in."

Here is a farsighted young man who plans to go on to college in order to get a better job.

KAREN NORFLEEST did a good job as one of the freshman cheerleaders this year. Cheerleading, she says, keeps up the school spirit and is therefore part of the backbone of a school body. Without school spirit, a school is "dead."

Karen's tips to future cheerleaders are:

1. Have a good personal appearance, 2. keep good grades, 3. Have a pleasing personality, 4. you are judged by your coordination; 5. you must look at your audience; 6. you must be able to jump well; 7. your acrobatic ability should be well developed."

When did Karen decide to become a cheerleader, and why, may be a question that is now in your mind.

"Two summers ago—because a certain person I know is one." Can you guess who that person might be, Pat?

Next season will see Karen "trying out" again. Best of luck to this dark-haired little freshman with the boundless energy.

and summer employed, students have indicated an interest in taking the course in reading acceleration, a night class will be scheduled. Mr. Pierick, instructor in charge, will be present from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., enabling a degree of flexibility for those who might enroll in this group.

One other period of instruction is tentatively scheduled. It is scheduled to meet at 8:30 a. m. Classes are approximately 70 minutes in length.

Those interested in enrolling in the summer reading program should contact at the earliest possible date either Erickson or John Daily.

'Exotic Isle' Boasts Hawaiian Orchids

JUNIOR PROM

The walls are decorated with flowers;
To brighten and enlighten those lovely hours.

The girls look like carnations floating around the room
And they dance and laugh and sigh at the paper moon.

The Queen and her King proudly reign over this long awaited dance
And their eyes sparkle brightly as they watch in a trance.

The clock strikes 12 and lovely night is ended,
And the laughter and tears with happiness are blended.

A 224-foot volcano, palm trees and real Hawaiian orchids will add a touch of reality to the Polynesian atmosphere of "Exotic Isle," the Junior Prom which will be given May 2 in the gymnasium.

The Top Hatters will furnish music for the dance at $3 per couple. ART FOULKE, junior king, and his queen (also a junior) will reign over the court. The court consists of members of each class. Attending will be Pat Anderson, freshman; Betsy Wilson, sophomore; Sharon Herda and Donna Klemen, juniors and Carol Schroeder, senior.

As in past years, a Grand March will take place immediately following the crowning.

A GLIMPSE AT the decorations proves that an exciting evening will be had. The beauty of the islands will be carried onto the floor by the hundreds of baby orchids direct from Hawaii.

The gym will be open soon to the junior class only. For one week the decorations will be assembled and erected.

Gets Watch on 25th Anniversary With Tool Firm

HAPPY 25th anniversary to George Masopust says Harold B. Smith, vice president of the Illinois Tool Works. Masopust, of Antioch, received a watch for his long service.

George Thomas Masopust, Third Ave., Antioch, recently celebrated his 25th service anniversary with Illinois Tool Works, Chicago. In observance of the occasion he was presented with an engraved anniversary watch by Harold B. Smith, president of the Northwest side firm.

Masopust is one of many Illinois Tool Works men who are graduates of the vocational machine shop course at Sterling Morton High School, Cicero, Ill. In his early years with the company he did precision machine production and inspection work in the manufacturing departments. He was promoted to the time study and methods department in 1945 where he now works.

George and Rose Masopust have lived in Antioch since their marriage 26 years ago, except for a short period of residence in North Lake, Ill.

They have three sons, George W., Donald T., and Allen J. The eldest, George W., is a member of the U. S. Air Force stationed in Ankara, Turkey. Donald and Allen are in business in Antioch. George and Donald each worked with their father at Illinois Tool Works for several years. There is one daughter, Mrs. Donna E. Jones of Waukegan, Ill. The Masopusts have five grandchildren.

Another Northwest suburbanite, Henry Enstrom, Rte. 2, Wonder Lake, also celebrated his quarter century anniversary with Illinois Tool Works on the same day. Masopust and Enstrom were hired on the same day, both have uninterrupted service and have had similar occupational careers. Both were promoted into the company time study and methods department in the middle 40's. Both men were among the first of the company employees to move to the northwest suburbs becoming "charter" members of the Healy Station commuters group on the Milwaukee railroad.

After work on their service "birthday" friends of Masopust and Enstrom from the Tool Works and from the Round Lake train held "open house" for them. Highlight of this occasion was the presentation of $25 to each man in honor of his "silver anniversary."

Inside this box is the most delightful golden crisp chicken you could ever imagine. Tender with lip-smacking flavor, this chicken is superb — guaranteed great!

You'll say it's "out-of-the-ordinary!"

Buy a "Box-A-Chicken" at Mary's Restaurant in Antioch real soon. Just $4.75 a box serves six. Perfect for picnics or family dinners.

One semester credit will be allowed for all subjects completed successfully and a student may carry three subjects. Courses in English, math, social studies, science and typing would be offered.

Library Gets New Civil War Study

Almost one hundred years have passed since the beginning of that protracted, fratricidal horror known as the Civil War. Thousands of pages have been printed dealing with every aspect of that first of the modern wars, the tactics of which are still being studied at West Point and at military schools all over the world.

Shelby Foote, a Mississippian, has just published the first of a three volume history. Dealing with the period from Fort Sumpter to the Battle of Perryville, Mr. Foote uses a broad canvas to portray the battles, the generals, the politicians, and the home front. "The Civil War" was presented to Antioch Township Library in memory of Mr. Paul Edgar Murray, Sr., father of Mrs. Harry Miller.

"Hammond's Pictorial Library of Pets, Plants, and Animals" was given to the library in memory of Mr. Paul Mehring. It is a treasury of fascinating information on the living things around us that will enchant the family from the youngest to the eldest member. Each page is enlivened by full color paintings of the pets and domestic animals we raise, the crops we grow and the flowers that beautify our gardens.

Armchair travelers will enjoy "The Klondike Fever" by Pierre Berton, "Cripple Creek Days," by Mabel Barbee Lee—both dealing with gold rush booms—and "Normandy Revisited," by A. J. Liebling.

Avoid Kite-Flying Hazards: Safety Co.

A popular sport for centuries, kite flying still ranks high in the affections of small boys and their "young in heart" dads. The popular spring sport can be all fun if proper measures are taken to minimize modern day hazards.

The National Safety Council urges children to fly kites in open spaces, away from traffic, trees, utility poles and wires, and other obstructions.

Owen Fordham, local district superintendent for Public Service Co., has these suggestions to add:

1. Use non-metallic materials for building your kite and for the string you use to fly it.
2. Flying a kite in an electrical storm or near electric wires is a dangerous practice.
3. Retrieving snagged kites from trees, poles, or fenced enclosures housing electrical equipment can be dangerous.
